How to Contribute

Charitable gifts are a primary source of funding for the Supportive and Palliative Care Program. Volunteers help to provide many of the program's activities, such as pet therapy. If you wish, you also can help to support the program at UPMC Presbyterian, UPMC Shadyside, and Magee-Womens Hospital of UPMC. You can do so by completing the pledge form on the reverse side and returning it to us. Arrangements are available for corporate match programs or contributions by planned or deferred gifts (such as bequests, trusts, or insurance). To learn more, call the Medical and Health Sciences Foundation at 412-647-9113.

Please Note:
Your check should be payable to "University of Pittsburgh" (the Supportive and Palliative Care Program is a joint service of UPMC and the University of Pittsburgh). Mail your check with your completed pledge form (reverse side) to:

If you do not want to receive future requests for charitable gifts for research, education, training, or other advances in health care at UPMC, write to us at the above address. If you do so, we will make all reasonable efforts that you do not receive any such communication from us in the future.

What Is Palliative Care?

"Palliate" means to ease, and the focus of our program is to ease the suffering that results from illness. Supportive and palliative care provides treatment for your symptoms, even when the underlying disease cannot be cured. The main goals are to relieve your pain and other discomfort and to reduce your family's stress. We also provide information to help you live with serious physical illness. We consider emotional, social, and spiritual needs as well. During your illness, supportive and palliative care can help you and your family to achieve a better quality of life.
Our Specialists
At UPMC Presbyterian, UPMC Shadyside, and Magee-Womens Hospital of UPMC, our Supportive and Palliative Care Program provides specialists who work with you to help with many aspects of your illness. We can help you with managing pain and physical symptoms and with fears and anxieties. We also can work with you in making serious medical decisions and with practical needs. Our specialists are highly trained and experienced. We are dedicated to you and your family and will work closely with your primary doctor.

Our Services
Cooperative Treatments
We collaborate with your doctor to recommend treatments to help ease pain, nausea, shortness of breath, and other distressing symptoms. In addition, the Supportive and Palliative Care Program can recommend alternative forms of treatment, such as music therapy and pet therapy, which can be used in concert with traditional medical treatments, such as chemotherapy or radiation.

Supportive Care
Our program can help you to determine personal treatment goals and choose among treatment options. We can help you plan for your discharge from the hospital and for palliative care after you leave. The program offers counseling for psychological and spiritual concerns, as well as support for families.

Medical Decision Making
If you are living with a serious illness, you and your family may be facing some hard choices. You may want help in considering the options presented to you. Experts are available through the Supportive and Palliative Care Program to work with you and your family in making difficult decisions about treatment issues, even near the end of life.
