Mission Statement

The Division of Gastroenterology, Hepatology and Nutrition unites physicians and scientists for excellence in patient care, education and research, providing the best of tomorrow’s medicine, today.

Continuing Education Credit

The University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine designates this educational activity for a maximum of 14.25 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity. Other health care professionals are awarded 1.425 continuing education units (CEU’s) which are equal to 14.25 contact hours.

Objectives

At the conclusion of the program, participants should be able to:

• Understand the complex interactions of genetic and environment factors causing pancreatic disease.
• Apply the most accurate and effective phenotyping methods on chronic pancreatitis components.
• Identify key features and predict the clinical course of CFTR, PRSS1 and SPINK1-associated diseases.
• Recognize how new findings in pancreatic cancer research and disease management are being used to optimize diagnosis and treatment.
• Integrate new advances to personalize the care of patients with pancreatic diseases.
• Envision and develop new studies and approaches through collaborative research efforts.
• Improve pancreas disease diagnosis and treatment options through case discussion.

Who Should Attend

This course is designed for gastroenterologists, surgeons, oncologists, radiologists, basic and clinical researchers and general physicians interested in pancreatic diseases. Physicians and scientists interested in translational research, cooperative studies and career development are encouraged to attend. Physician extenders, clinical and research nurses and related health care professionals interested in pancreatic disease research and treatment should also attend.

Informal Working Group Meetings

All Pancreasfest 2010 attendees are encouraged to participate in study group meetings and research discussions. Ample time has been allocated for these sessions throughout the program. Abstracts/Posters and Scholarships

Abstract Submission

• Pancreas disease research abstract submissions are encouraged from all conference attendees. While novel research is preferred, abstracts submitted at previous national meetings are welcome. Abstract length should be limited to 500 words. No abstracts will be published without author agreement. Accepted abstracts will be presented during the poster sessions throughout the conference. Details for submitting abstracts are provided on page 15 of this brochure.

• Abstract Deadline: May 28, 2010. Abstracts will be accepted up to July 7. However, consideration for PancreasFest 2010 scholarships and oral presentations requires submission by the May 28 deadline.

Poster Presentations

• A panel of experts will choose exceptional abstracts for late-breaking oral presentations or for at-poster professor rounds discussion during the Thursday, July 29 poster discussion/reception session.

• The top abstracts will be recognized at the Awards Dinner on Friday evening, July 30.

Important Dates

May 28 Main abstract submission deadline (final deadline for poster session discussion honors and scholarship consideration)
June 7 Accepted abstracts, poster discussion honor recipients and scholarship recipients announced.
July 7 Final deadline for abstract submission. No abstracts will be accepted after this date. Late-breaking abstracts will not be considered for travel awards.
July 12 Final notification of late-breaking abstracts accepted for presentation.

Travel Scholarships

Young investigators (trainees of junior faculty within three years of appointment) may apply for a PancreasFest 2010 travel scholarship. Up to ten $500 scholarships will be awarded by a CAPER abstract review panel. Scholarship recipients will be asked to use their travel scholarships towards payment of meeting-associated costs including airfare, overnight accommodations and registration fees. Scholarship recipients will still need to register for PancreasFest 2010 and will be responsible for paying for all of their own expenses. Please note that the $500 travel award may not cover all expenses in full. Trainees receiving travel scholarships will be expected to attend the entire PancreasFest 2010 program, including the Friday evening July 30 Awards Dinner. Scholarship recipients should expect to present their posters during both the late-afternoon Thursday July 29 Professor Rounds and the Saturday July 31 program.

Scholarship Application Instructions: Submit an abstract and a 100-word statement outlining research interests and career goals by May 28, 2010 and check the appropriate box on the Abstract Submission Form (page 15) regarding scholarship consideration.

Questions regarding PancreasFest 2010 travel scholarships may be directed to Ms. Carm Campbell at cmc18@pitt.edu or (412) 623-0021.
NOTE: PancreasFest 2010 speakers and attendees will be experts in the field, so background/introductions will not be the norm to provide maximum time for issue presentations and discussions. All invited talks will be confined to 20 minutes in length. Discussions may occur during designated sessions or at the posters.
